About Kaohsiung

The City of Kaohsiung is a beautiful and thriving international metropolis. Historically, Kaohsiung was a tiny fishing village that has now evolved into a dynamic city and an important hub for international trade. The busy ship routes from all over the world represent the energy and vitality of the city.

Kaohsiung boasts varied landscapes, from the mountain ranges bordering the city in the northeast to the warm South China Sea to the west, and southwest. The city offers natural beauty as well as a bustling urban environment from the lush green Chai and Banping mountains to the clear and serene Lotus Pond with its intricate namesake flowers. Kaohsiung offers an authentic Taiwanese atmosphere with night markets and small streets with cafes offering traditional local delicacies.

Transfer to, from, and within Kaohsiung

Getting into Kaohsiung

From Taoyuan International Airport (TPE)

If you are landing at the Taoyuan International Airport near Taipei, the most convenient way is to take the metro to the Taoyuan High-Speed Rail (HSR) Station (桃園高鐵站). Then, you can take the high-speed rail which will bring you directly to Kaohsiung (Zuoying HSR Station, 左營高鐵站). Detailed steps are as follows:

1) MRT (Mass Rapid Transit):

Taoyuan International Airport → Taoyuan High-Speed Rail (HSR) Station (桃園高鐵站)

If you arrive at Taoyuan International Airport, there is a MRT stop at Airport Terminal 1 and Terminal 2. Please take the Commuter Train towards Zhongli Railway Station (中壢車站). Alight at Taoyuan HSR station (桃園高鐵站).

Ticket price: Single journey ticket full fare at NTD 35(0.98 € or 1.17 USD).

Tickets are sold at the Taoyuan Airport and the Taoyuan HSR Station and tickets can be purchased at the ticketing counter at the airport.

Intervals: 5 – 10 minutes intervals during peak hours.

Trip length: 20 minutes

Service hours: 06:00-23:56

Timetable and fares can be found here: <https://goo.gl/aXwrPi>

2) High-Speed rail (HSR):

Taoyuan High-Speed Rail (HSR) Station (桃園高鐵站) → Zuoying HSR Station (左營高鐵站)

Early bird discounts (35% off, 20% off, or 10%) are offered with limited quantity no later than 5 – 28 days before the departure date (including the departure date). For more information on tickets and fares, please visit the official website here.

Tickets are sold at the Taoyuan HSR station.

Trip length: about 1.30 hours

Timetable: <https://goo.gl/c2yt8J>

Ticket price	Full-fare	Children/Disabled	Group tickets
Standard seats	1,330 NTD 37 € 43 USD	665 NTD 19 € 22.20 USD	1,260 NTD 35 € 42 USD

Getting around Kaohsiung

From Zuoying HSR Station (左營高鐵站) to the Congress venue

If you arrive at Zuoying HSR Station (左營站), please take the Red Line towards Siaogang (小港) direction and transit at Formosa Boulevard Station (美麗島站) (6 stops).

At the Formosa Boulevard station, transfer to the Orange line towards the Sizihwan direction. Alight at Sizihwan MRT station (西子灣站) which is about 3 stops away.

Exit at the Sizihwan MRT Station Exit 2 and then head southeast on Pinghai Road 2 (臨海二路) towards Guyuan street (鼓元街 2 巷). The Congress venue is about 5-minute walk away from the MRT station.

The metro timetable can be found here: <https://goo.gl/ARxP9Y>.

From Kaohsiung International Airport (KHH) to the Congress venue

If you are landing at the Kaohsiung International Airport, the most convenient way to travel around is with the Kaohsiung Mass Rapid Transit (KMRT). A stop is within the airport and easy to find.

The nearest KMRT station to the Congress venue is Sizihwan MRT Station (西子灣站).

By public transport

At the courtesy of the City of Kaohsiung, the use of public transportation will be free from 1- 6 October 2017 for all Congress participants with the use of iPass, a public transport card.

iPass

During registration, the participant's kits will include iPass, which allows you to use all public transportation including MRT, LRT, bus, ferry and other forms of shared transportation including bicycles and cars. One can top-up their iPass at the nearest convenience stores including 7-Eleven, Family Mart in order to allow using this card also for purchase of food and similar.

By Kaohsiung Mass Rapid Transit (KMRT)

The KMRT is air-conditioned and has a relatively extensive coverage of Kaohsiung. One way ticket price ranges from NTD 20 (0.56 € or 0.67 USD) to NTD 60 (1. 67€ or 2 USD) while a one-day pass for unlimited travel costs NTD 150 one day pass. Auto ticketing machines are available at all metro stations for commuters to purchase new tickets or top up transit pass.

Smoking, drinking, eating and gum chewing are strictly prohibited. English signs and maps are commonly available for easy navigation.

By bus

In Kaohsiung the bus system ties in with the KMRT. There is English signage on the bus and electronic displays inside indicate the next stop. Bus routes and schedules are available online and at the bus station. An adult ticket fare is NTD12 (0.34 € or 0.4 USD). Commuters can purchase the ticket with coins or commute with iPass.

By metered taxi

Metered taxis are easy to find. The taxis hotline is +886-7-7258777 or 55688. The list of legally-recognized tourist taxis licensed by Kaohsiung City Government ensures travelers to commute around Kaohsiung with ease and peace of mind. More information can be found here: <https://goo.gl/n6v62j>

Please note Uber operates in Kaohsiung.

By car

Car rental companies have English-speaking service and provide pick-ups. Two common car rental companies are:

- Car Plus
- Central Auto

For additional information on directions to the venue, please visit:

<http://www.ecomobilityfestival.org/congress-venue/> Please also consult the website for public transportation in Kaohsiung, where you can find timetables, ticket prices, and network information: <https://goo.gl/hVm7dK>.

Festival area, congress venue and registration

Festival area

The EcoMobility World Festival 2017 will be a live demonstration of how cities can take a bold step to create a forward-thinking urban transportation culture through ecomobility.

In October, the Hamasen district of the City of Kaohsiung will be the spotlight of the EcoMobility World Festival 2017. During this month, residents and visitors are encouraged to use ecomobile modes of transport such as walking, bicycling, use of public transport and other shared mobility.

Congress venue

The EcoMobility World Congress 2017 will take place at

Warehouse B3, No. 99,
Penglai Road
Gushan District
Kaohsiung City.

Local information while in Kaohsiung

Weather

Kaohsiung enjoys warm weather all year round and is extremely suitable for travelling. Average low and high temperatures are 24 °C (75 °F) and 33 °C (91 °F), cooling a bit from the summer heat. Summer clothes are suitable during the day, but in early morning or evening you may need a light coat. Rainfall tapers off quite a bit compared to summer, but an umbrella is needed.

Insects are not a major issue in Kaohsiung, though there are insect-borne diseases such as dengue fever. Mosquito repellants are recommended. If you take any regular medication, bring enough with you.

Drinking water

Tap water is not drinkable in Kaohsiung. It is best to boil or filter. Most hotels provide bottled water. There are many convenience stores around so you can get bottled water there.

Business hours

Most restaurants and stores in Kaohsiung are open 7 days a week.

Banks

Weekdays: 09:00 – 15:30

Weekends and Public Holidays: Closed

Department Stores

Daily 11:00 – 21:30/22:00

Restaurants & Retail Shops

Daily 11:00 – 22:00

Convenience Stores (e.g. 7-Eleven, Family Mart)

Daily 24 hours (some stores open at 07:00 – 23:00)

Government Offices and Organizations, Foreign Diplomatic Missions

Weekdays: 8:30 – 12:00, 13:30 – 17:30

Weekends and National Holidays: Closed

Post Offices

Weekdays: 08:30 – 17:30

Weekends & Public Holidays: Closed

Currency & payment

The official monetary unit is the New Taiwanese Dollars (NTD).

One U.S dollar is roughly equivalent to 30.1 NTD. One Euro is roughly equivalent to 35.8 NTD. Please note that exchange rates fluctuate daily; it is therefore recommended to check current rates before making any large transactions.

You can change money at the Bank of Taiwan or international tourist hotels. For more information on currency exchange, please visit the Financial Supervisory Commission website.

Electricity & voltage

Kaohsiung uses electric current of 110 volts at 60 cycles. Many buildings have sockets with 220 volts especially for the use of air conditioners.

If you do not have a voltage travel adapter, please ask to borrow one from your hotel's front desk.

Emergency situations

Please dial 110 for the police, 119 for fire department, and 112 for a medical emergency.

A hotel staff or hotel manager can arrange for a doctor or an ambulance.

If you require a first aid kit, or require any type of medical assistance, please ask the information desk or a staff member. The information desk will also have a phone to call authorities in emergency situations as well as a first aid kit.

Helpful numbers

- Ambulance and Fire: 119
- Emergency Call: 112
- Police: 110
- Kaohsiung City Police: +886-7-221-5796 or +886-7-212-08000
